

FIRST GENERATION

1. Matthew SEMARK was born before 1720 in unknown. He was Entitlement to Beef and Barley, Poddington Christmas Poor List in December 1747 in Poddington. He died on October 16, 1763 in St Mary The Virgin Podington. From County records;

1905 : No Seamark or derivative headstones at Poddington [or even Stagsden], which indicates the family was not semi-wealthy ie food was more important

Poddington Records : No references to any Seamark, did not pay any rent and did not find any references in the Manor Records.

Still to check Overseers books, have finally found the reference numbers for the period of Seamark settlement.

Matthews:

I have one Matthew from Old that could be this Matthew. The Old Matthew could also be Matthew of East Haddon. Todate it is not possible to say which is which. Unlikely to be the same person but interestingly the year after the last Seamark birth at East Haddon, Our Matthew marries in Poddington. Due to the fact we have two Matthew burials this fact becomes more of interest ... The other point is that Matthew East Haddon had many children but no Matthew ?? so is the East Haddon Burial a missing son.

Matthews known form Northants :

1653 28 Sept Marriage Matthew Seamarke and Ann Adkins [Winwick]

1698 Poll Tax payment Matthew Semark [Sibbertoft]

1704 Nov 11 Marriage Licence, Matthew of Sibbertoft [OLD] and Elizabeth Vernon of Sibbertoft. To be married Sibbertoft.

"We have checked the Electoral Register for 1918 and 1920. The only occupants of 15. Ash St, Cheadle Heath, were George Hubert Seamark and his wife Helen Seamark. We also checked the Absent Voters List for 1918-1925. There were no records for the above address. We have in our 'Biographies of World War 1', a record of the death of Private G.A.Seamark, Cross Roads Cemetery - Nord. There is a small indistinct photograph.

I am sorry that we can not provide any more information."

Bedfordshire Times 1951 - Labour Party Pioneer Dies : Mr J Seamark

A founder member of Bedford Labour Party and its first secretary, Mr James William Seamark, formerly of Hartington Street, Bedford, died at Clapham Hospital on Sunday evening. He was 86.

Mr Seamark was born at Stagsden and moved to Bedford in 1882 when he began business as a tailor. In 1886 he married at Howard Congregational Church a Miss Appleby. He had a long connection with Howard Church at various times holding the office of Secretary of the Band of Hope, Sunday School Teacher, Deacon, Secretary of the Church and Lay Preacher.

A Champion of the Labour cause, he joined the Trades Union Movement in 1888 and in 1892 assisted in the formation of the first Trades Council in Bedford. A tireless campaigner in national and municipal politics, he took a large part in organizing local meetings for Keir Hardie and Ramsay MacDonald.

In 1906 he was elected to Bedford Town Council and so began an association with that body which was to last for 16
